

ARBUCKLE HELD RESPONSIBLE

Coroner's Jury Charges Manslaughter

Interrogation by the district attorney.

The statement of Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson that one of the girl witnesses who had attended the party had been asked to accept a bribe to withhold her testimony.

District Attorney Matthew A. Brady said he had not yet decided what course to pursue in regard to the insider complaint, in view of the manslaughter charges but would settle the matter in conference with his deputies before Friday when Arbuckle appears in police court to plead on the murder charge.

"There is no mistaking the truth of the matter," he said, "that two juries have held Arbuckle criminally responsible for the death of the girl."

The grand jury indictment for manslaughter is to be returned before presiding Judge Shortall in the superior court tomorrow.

Brady received a commendatory telegram today from Mayor L. C. Hodges of St. Paul, Minn., which read:

"Arbuckle is not punished the moving picture business is done for." He also received a telegraphic appeal from Henry Lehman of New York, a friend of Mrs. Ruppe, asking Brady to be sure that justice was done and Arbuckle punished.

Eighteen telegrams coming from all parts of the United States, and addressed to "Roscoe Arbuckle, City of Child of God, Tulear, Calif." were received at the Hall of Justice where the film star is being held throughout today. The telegrams were given to Arbuckle and the contents of the communications were not made public.

Chief of Police Daniel O'Brien addressed a meeting today of the women's vigilante committee, which afterward adopted a resolution pledging police and judiciary full support. O'Brien said Arbuckle should be prosecuted the same as though he were a poor man without friends, or any other man. "Arbuckle, if guilty, should be punished as criminal gamblers were punished here within a year, the meeting was told by Mrs. Loretta Miller, a representative of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The gamblers were given terms of one to forty years in San Quentin penitentiary for attacking girls."

In his honest testimony Dr. Strange said that certain bruises on Mrs. Ruppe's body had been produced before death "and looked to be bruises such as if some force had made them."

"I was not able to say that these bruises were the result of human agency," he testified, "except on the left arm on which the marks looked like those of finger prints."

Dr. Ophelia testified that the injuries which resulted in Miss Ruppe's death "might have been caused by the use of force, rather than violence." He objected to the word "violence" as descriptive of the basic causes of the injuries.

Levy Attachment

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—Raymond Gould, an interior decorator, yesterday filed an attachment against "the city" (Arbuckle's) real estate owned by Roscoe (Arbuckle) in Los Angeles as a detail to a suit for $1,400, which Gould said was due him for decorating the house and grounds of Arbuckle's residence here.

This was the second attachment brought against Arbuckle's property here within two days, the first having been filed Monday by a furniture company which claimed Arbuckle had the company price of 25 pieces of furniture.

Wife to Aid Him

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Roscoe Arbuckle, who was known professionally as Minnie Durfee, left New York today for San Francisco to help her husband if possible, although she has been separated from him for five years.

"I am going to him because I think it is my duty to be near him," she said. "I want to help him in every way I can. I don't know just how I can be of service to him but many things will turn up that can do."

When we were married, I was 17 and my husband was 21. That was back in 1909. Five years ago we decided to divorce and I received a separate maintenance. Unfortunately—or perhaps fortunately, as we please—there are no children. We were not bitter against each other. We simply decided that we would remain good friends. Mr. Arbuckle has been very generous in his treatment of me in regard to the divorce. I have not had work during these years, and in February he made it a present of a fine automobile."

"A reconciliation?" That depends on whether I find that my place is with him and whether he finds that he is ready for a return to the life we led when we were married, when was his inspiration. All I know now is that I am going to friend who needs every bit of help he can get."

Mrs. Arbuckle was accompanied on the trip to San Francisco by her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee of Los Angeles.

municipal business and it is alleged that whatever injuriously affects the city's credit results in its having to pay higher prices for its materials and restricts the number of competitive bids. The declaration charges that the Tribune attacks on the city finances caused some persons, firms or corporations who otherwise would have, to refrain from doing so.

The declaration also points out that certain civic improvements were under consideration or construction at the time of the alleged libel and that the city expected to raise funds in the prices of labor, materials and supplies. "In consequence whereof its incorporate fund may not be sufficient to meet all current obligations chargeable against it for 1920."

It asserts, however, that the fund had not been wasted and that its condition was due solely to the loss of the $7,000,000 revenue and increased cost of labor and supplies.

The declaration emphasizes that the city has various funds, including the corporate fund, proceeds from special assessments and a water fund. It acknowledges that "at sometimes there may be both enough actual cash on hand in the corporate fund to meet all the current obligations of the city. Reduction in Total Crop May Aid Prices

There is no mistaking the trend of the cotton market the past month. A slow advancing market finally gave way to a more exciting one with quotations on the market at times as much as ten points above sales.

The crop had a bad start with a reduction in acreage of more than 25 per cent, and at best it was figured that only a small crop could be ing of the city, making no distinction between the corporate fund and other sections of the city's financial resources.

The city's declaration asserts that in 1920 the municipality had been dependent on $7,000,000 income from oil and license, and that in addition to this, there had been heavy increases in the prices of labor, materials and supplies. "In consequence whereof its incorporate fund may not be sufficient to meet all current obligations chargeable against it for 1920."

It asserts, however, that the fund had not been wasted and that its condition was due solely to the loss of the $7,000,000 revenue and increased cost of labor and supplies.

It acknowledges that "at sometimes there may be both enough actual cash on hand in the corporate fund to meet all the current obligations of the city. But it is also true that the other funds have been at all times charged against them. It is alleged that the Tribune, however, attacked the general financial standing even with favorable development, but it was the tremendous crop which kept the market out of the market."

The dry weather throughout the entire month of July coupled with high temperatures has resulted in good cotton acreage that estimates for the state are now about 1,000,000 bales. Just the other day we saw the end of the latest part of the crop where it has a yield of 1,000,000 bushels and the yield was 1,000,000 bushels.

Complaints of deterioration have been coming in from all sections of the country, particularly in the eastern states.

It is estimated that the cotton crop around 30 per cent which would indicate a crop of about seven million

KEEP IT CLEAN

The effort that is being made by the "law and order" committee of the oil field strikers to preserve the reputation as well as the character of the strike is very praiseworthy.

Labor struggles have been too often settled on issues that should not have been created.

The raising or the lowering of wages is a real issue. The matter of collective bargaining is a real issue. The question of time or labor, of over time, of penalties for over time, of gradations of employment, of seniority of service, of standards of a labor, are all proper issues.

But the question of the conduct of the strikers as citizens is not a real issue. The question of the good faith of employers or employees is not a real issue.

These false issues are made a part of the political maneuvering between the parties to the struggle and between these parties and the general public.

It is important for the honor of our industry that the good faith of all parties to a struggle shall be pledged to the honorable working out of the real issues. There should be no trickery, no back firing, nor "putting the other fellow in wrong," by either side.

We don't need to question that, in the past, there has been guile of this sort on both sides of industrial struggles. There has been sabotage, and there has been alleged sabotage staged by the enemies of labor.

Let's keep these differences between men clean differences.

WORLD SERVICE

The selection of John Bassett Moore, American jurisconsult, to the international court to be established by the League of Nations is an evidence of the anxiety of the members of the league to include the United States in the creative purposes of the League. It is also an evidence that the League recognizes the building up of a body of men of international minds.

We have evidence enough of the participation in world affairs of men whose knowledge of men and affairs and principles and means of operations extends just beyond the village type. We have men of this sort in national parliaments, at the head of executive responsibilities that affect the lives of nations in every part of the globe and that can make or mar the statecraft of generations. These men of political ability but of village capacity are found making noisy agitations over far flung issues, confusing the thinking and the acting of democracies whose most sacred right should be the right of being well advised.

The objection has been raised by the Spanish War Veterans that certain textbooks in American history are "whitewashing" the British.

Whether the charge is true or not, we don't happen to know. But the charge should be treated with respect, and should be followed up.

The truth of American history is too important to have it made a tool in the interests of British, of German, of Irish or any other propaganda. We cannot criticize the activity of those persons who see largely the virtues of British world activity. Nor can we object to those who love to emphasize the virtues of the Irish character at home and abroad. And we should not overvalue the sort of enthusiasm that denounces all things German or all things French. But we must not permit enthusiasts of this sort to put the final touch on our history. The clash between the British government and the American colonies includes a set of facts that are an "actual" part of the records of the world, quite independent of what our notions of British influence in the world today may be.

A zealous interest in the "truth" is the most important qualification for the writing of history. And second only to this is well balanced judgment.

PROPOGANDA HISTORIES

We have noted an objection to histories written "with a purpose."

But we highly approve of criticisms of history "made with a purpose."

Persons with a positive point of view should not be encouraged to embark in the compilation of history.

But persons should be encouraged to keep a check on history to see that its purpose is properly served.

The purpose of history should be to give the "truth."

The only principle of selection to be applied should be the elimination of trivialities, or the division of history into its appropriate headings.

It is not important, in dealing with the history of ancient Egypt, to concern oneself with the question whether a particular Pharaoh preferred to live in Thebes or in a city nearby. Nor is it important to concern oneself with the monetary system of the City of Babylon. Not all truth then is important.

The truth of ancient may be confined almost entirely to Egypt, and may well exclude many things about Egypt that are petty in their nature.

But aside from the obvious exclusions, all truth is truth. Above all, no question of what "ought to be" should be allowed to interfere with the historian's judgment of what "is."

Granted this primary purpose in history, it is still true that persons who concern themselves with history may violate the principles of it. It is quite proper for persons who are not historians to point out the errors of professional historians. Amateurs, incidental observers, men whose excursions into the data of the past have been caused by other interests, have an invaluable function in checking up on the methods and the results of professional historians.

Professional historians allow merely professional theories to pervert the truth of history, but its selective methods. They may leave things out that should be retained. They may overemphasize one aspect or another. Through their very zeal, as well as through unconscious personal bias, they may pervert a whole subject of the past.

When, therefore, we hear that some organization whose training is not directed solely toward the preparation of history, is about to compile a history, we demur. But when some non-historical organization points out a defect in current treatment of some chapter of American or other history, we are called upon to consider the protest with respect, and to inquire more fully into the facts.

MONOCLES

Alfred Kreymborg in the Dial.

"Reducing the universe to one round view, and turning it inside out, is truly beyond my capacity; compressing one's view, like a hoop, for other folk to be whipped through—squeezing the ring so tight that not even a gnat could manage the hole—requires more strength than I have the pincers for; holding what one is pleased to call 'trot, and greeting him exclusively through the monocle of one's own righteousness—that eye suffers astigmatism. I prefer to try the other."

"Treat 'em rough" was a good war slogan, but it has its little faults as a foreign policy.

A physician says people are usually happy when the liver is working well. He probably means filiver.

Air programs have not yet developed to the point where any nation claims, as its sphere of influence, the atmosphere.

The disarmament conference will succeed in burying the hatchet, unless the delegates bring too many axes to print.

The louder a man howls for service, the smaller his tip will be.

Only the future can tell whether Germany can come back without going back.

FORTUNE!

What would you do if you had fifteen million dollars?

What would you do if you were today given, absolutely, fifteen million dollars?

This is not an uncommon question. In fact it is a question that appears frequently enough, to the simpleness in the minds of each of us.

Remember the answers that you have heard to it. They nearly all relate to the question of the disposal of the money.

The question is read "What would you do with the fifteen millions?"

Some would spend it at once. Some would keep it well invested, spending only the interest. Many minds become at once philanthropic. They would do much good at once with it. Only gradually do they realize that they would spend it for their own vanity, if not for their own gratification.

How few of us realize once the egocentric affect of a suddenly acquired fortune!

The newly rich man is like a planet abruptly brought into close relationship with the sun. His center of gravity is suddenly shifted from within himself to a point far outside of himself. He gravitates around his fortune, until its energy is radiated away, and leaves him like a burned out cinder.

The question about fifteen million dollars would be not what you would do with it, but what it would do with you.

The cartoonist McCutcheon has drawn for Republican readers a new pictorial serial, the first number of which appears on this page this morning and the subsequent numbers of which will appear weekly hereafter.

The chief strength of McCutcheon's drawings has been thought, rather than mere impression. So in this serial he has combined thought in drawing with thought in fiction form.

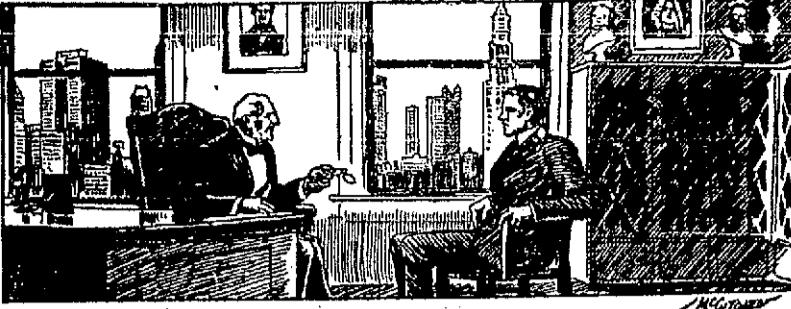

You will take delight in the simple expression of the story as much as in the homely form of Mr. McCutcheon's art delineations of his story.

AN HEIR AT LARGE

(Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune)

CHAPTER I.

Young Henry Livingston Bacon sat hunched up in a deep chair caused by the change in his fortunes.

Yesterday he wondered where he was to get the money to pay his room rent. Today he could buy the whole apartment house, grounds and furnishings, together with all the neighboring property for a couple of blocks in both directions.

It was incredible.

"As though reconstructing an elusive dream, he recalled the even tones of the lawyer whose office he had so recently left."

"You have received the entire fortune of your late uncle. At his death the principal and interest became yours by virtue of a trust agreement between the settlor and the trustees made nearly four years ago. After transferring the estate to you he retained the income during his lifetime.

"Aids from half a dozen of his closest business associates, no one knew the extent of your uncle's operations or the magnitude of his fortune. He was very secretive."

"Bacon remembered how he had been struck by the word 'magnitude.' It was unexpectedly impressive."

"Having disposed of his fortune by trust agreement before his death he has circumvented the inheritance tax. For there is no will to be probated, and the size of the estate does not become public. In recent years the property has been converted almost wholly into tax exempt securities, which by reason of an old decision—the McCulloch against Maryland decision—are not taxable by the Federal Government.

"You will be interested, I'm sure, in hearing that, after the payment of all taxes, claims, and debts, the fortune you inherit will reach very close to—"

The lawyer paused here to note the effect. He then added evenly:

"Fifteen million dollars." He allowed himself the shadow of a smile. "It ought to be enough to keep the wolf from the door."

Fifteen million! Instead of keeping the wolf from the door it would probably draw many to it."

Young Bacon never dreamed that his uncle, living in hermitlike seclusion, was so rich—far less than he.

might some day be his heir. In fact, he supposed him self to be in disfavor.

In college, and later in his regiment, he had won the honor of being the best amateur boxer in the 160 pound class, a distinction which could hardly have appealed to his cold, reserved uncle.

So certain was he of his uncle's disapproval that he had not appealed to him for help when he started to work nearly three years before. He had plodged along to his present position, paying $2,500 a year, without benefit of pull. During those three years he had seen little of his uncle, but evidently an appraising eye had been upon him.

"This—this fortune," he finally regained composure enough to ask, "Is it to remain in the hands of the trustees?"

"Your uncle seems to have had faith in your judgment and character," the lawyer answered. "He did not tie up his estate with conditions. There are no strings leading from the grave. You are at liberty to squander every cent and ruin yourself so far as he is concerned. Of course, we all hope you will be a fortune hunter. Don't let it spoil you, as infefted money has spoiled so many other young men."

"You mean," said Bacon in a faint voice, "that it is mine now, that I can get money now?"

"Certainly. There is a considerable sum in the bank at this moment that has not been reinvested yet."

Together they walked to the bank, where the young man was introduced and his signature deposited. A check book, visible evidence that he was not dreaming, was now in his pocket.

As the lawyer bade him good-by he asked in a kindly tone if there was anything more he could do.

"There is only one thing," Bacon had answered, a vague idea rising in the back of his mind. "Can all this be kept secret for some time—perhaps a few weeks, or months? Is that possible?"

"Certainly. No one need know except ourselves and the bank. You will not be obliged to file an income tax return for several months."

And now—back in his room, gazing at the check book with its limitless possibilities, his thoughts turned to Miss Muriel Lannard.

"Would also still refuse him, he wondered.

BOYS OF 91ST TO MEET AGAIN

Want Large Delegation
From Fresno

Fresno city is being sent a large delegation to the annual reunion of the Ninety-first division, which will be held in the southern city on Friday and Saturday of next week.

In letter received by Mayor Truman G. Hart yesterday from the chairman of the reunion committee, which was given out to delegation by Secretary Rankin, the chairman asked that Fresno give its delegation a real "send-off" when it leaves for Los Angeles.

The communication to the mayor follows:

Los Angeles, Sept. 12, 1921.

My Dear Mayor:

Fresno gave many men to the Ninety-first Division. I am not going to elaborate on what the city owes these men—those who are living and voting there now, as well as those who have never returned. You know better than I.

But may I suggest that when the city's delegation leaves for the reunion of the division, to be held in Los Angeles September 24 and 25, it be given a fitting send-off, one with one-tenth of one per cent of the enthusiasm accorded the local gathering of those same men in 1917. And that you ask your citizens to recognize publicly the display of the flag, at least, and marking of the blue trefoil emblem of the Wild West Division, the third anniversary of the division's baptism of fire, on September 26.

Major Ralph of San Francisco is coming south to the reunion with the Ninety-firsts of the Bay City. If you can find it possible to follow his example and honorably join the Fresno delegation, we will be glad to have you as an honored guest.

Yours sincerely,

J. W. SUTPHEN,

Chairman Reunion Committee.

Many To Attend Municipal Meeting

Fresno city will be well represented at the next meeting of the California League of Municipalities, which will be held at Santa Barbara on September 21-22. Fresno is sending a delegation, plus the League section, will be attended by Mayor Truman G. Hart, Commissioner of Public Works Strandahl, Commissioner Glen DeVore, W. E. Rumsma, deputy city engineer, and, probably, Dr. Mathewson, city health officer.

The meeting, it is noted, will be one of the most important ever held by the League, and the program includes discussion of problems that are of moment at the present time in Fresno.

Mayor Hart is now away on his vacation. He is expected back in his office Monday, according to Secretary Clark Rankin.

MINORS ARE TO BE REGISTERED

Applies To Children Between 3 and 18.

The annual registration of minors will be held during the school week of October 3 to 8. Superintendent of Schools Clarence Edwards announced yesterday. All minors under 18 years of age and over 3 years of age are to be registered.

The law requires, Edwards stated, that the registration be conducted by the teachers of the various elementary school districts of the county. The place of registration will be the public elementary school house.

Should there be a vacancy in any regular teaching position in the city or if teachers in any district should be unable to act on account of illness or other good cause, the school board will designate some other person to act as registrar. Schools will remain open during the registration period.

The law requires every parent or other person having charge or control of any minor under 18 and over three years of age to cause such minor to be registered. The registration forms and notices will be addressed to the clerks of the various school boards who will deliver them to the registrar at the school houses.

Wedding Day of Grecian Princess and Rich American Youth Is Near

PRINCESS XENIA AND WILLIAM B. LEEDS

William B. Leeds, son of the late American tin-plate king, and Princess Xenia of Greece, second daughter of Grand Duchess Marie of that country, are to be married this month in the palatial home of Leeds' mother in London, known as Spencer house. The princess is recovering from an operation of appendicitis. Mrs. Leeds is now Princess Anastasia, wife of Prince Christopher.

"No, I forgot all about it." Turning to the first baseman, the manager said coolly: "Mr. Bransfield, one moment please." Thereafter whenever a player on the opposite side reaches your base I wish you would inform Mr. Covaleskie, because it would be foolish to have any secrets in the club."—Boston Transcript.

Sarcasm sometimes reaches its apex on the baseball field. When Covaleskie was pitching for the Phillips one day let a runner get from first to second without the slightest effort to stop him. The manager was furious.

" Didn't you know there was a man on first?" he demanded of Covaleskie.

Graham's court on a charge of driving an automobile on Kearney avenue while intoxicated, resulting in a collision which seriously injured his companion and a child, and greatly damaged two automobiles shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

A. A. Land, 323 Tulare street who was riding with Backlund, is in the Burnett sanitarium with a probable fractured skull, six broken lower ribs, an injury to his heart, and a fractured ankle.

Winfred Anderson, 16, together with his parents were in the automobile struck by Backlund, incurred a deep gash under his right eye through the breaking of his glasses, and shoulder bruising.

The accident, which occurred at Kearney boulevard and Marks avenue, was caused by reckless driving according to Deputy Sheriff Winnings. He stated the man had been drinking. He was driving at an excessive rate of speed at the time of the collision.

Following the wreck, Mrs. Augusta Anderson filed a complaint in Judge Graham's court against Mack and Land. Later in the afternoon Backlund was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Winnings after Winnings says he encountered trouble in entering the Backlund Nevada avenue residence.

AUTO TOOLS STOLEN
Automobile tools valued at $15 were stolen from the J. G. Ames garage 132 Calaveras avenue, Tuesday night according to a police report. The burglary was investigated by Inspector O'Brien.

SIERRA VISTA

A District Adjoining Alta Vista Where Values Will Quickly Increase Because Homes Are Being Built

In some respects Fresno, like Topsy, "Just Grown", but the direction of growth has been determined largely by the farsighted men selling real estate. Billings & Meyering have been very successful in selling sub-divisions because they have selected property with care, IMPROVED IT, created building restrictions and HOMES.

And because Billings & Meyering's properties have always greatly increased in value, investors and home builders will quickly buy each unit of Sierra Vista as it goes on the market.

Next Sunday Is Sierra Vista opening day

Sierra Vista is Fresno's greatest addition—a square mile adjoining Alta Vista on the northeast, as illustrated above. It is bounded on the north by Olive Ave., on the south by Tulare Ave., on the west by 12th street, and on the east by Chestnut avenue. It is situated on high ground, with an unobstructed and inspiring view of the noble Sierras. In the first unit of 480 lots, which goes on the market next Sunday, (September 18th) all city conveniences will be installed. A spirit of business-like bustle now pervades the property—streets are being graded, curbs and sidewalks put in, and the construction of homes started. It has already begun to develop into an integral and important part of Fresno.

Why you should come out early opening day

Sierra Vista is a district that will increase in value from the very start and people know it. It is backed by a company that will make it grow. Even greater profits will be made in Sierra Vista than has been made in other Billings & Meyering subdivisions, because of the low opening prices and extensive improvements that will be carried out. Bear in mind the Zappa Park Sale, when every lot was sold within 2½ hours. The location and value of Sierra Vista lots point to a similar demand, so come early Sunday morning, that you may obtain a choice location in this new home district.

VALLEY FRUIT CROPS ARE NOT UP TO NORMAL

Monthly Agricultural Department Report Is Issue

Grapes 71.6 Per Cent, Peach 86 and Figs 83 Per Cent

An estimate as of September 1, made by the California Department of Agriculture, shows the three primary crops of this section of the San Joaquin Valley, grapes, peaches and figs, to be below normal.

The grape crop, expressed in percentages for a ten-year average, will be below normal.

The grape crop, expressed in percentage for a ten-year average, will be 71.6 per cent, the peach crop is considerably greater 86.7 per cent, while the fig production of the state is estimated at 83 per cent of normal, a decline of two points since August 1.

The high points of the crop report for the state, issued by E. B. Kaufman, statistician follow:

While conditions were fair or less favorable to the fruit crops during the month of August, some of them made but slow progress. Temperatures were too low in the Sacramento Valley for rapid development of rice and nights too cool for rice in the Delta. Grapes ripened slowly and held back shipping to some extent.

The shipment of deciduous fruits is rapidly nearing the end. The peach crop has begun to be harvested practically, except for one of the 1921 crops, except citrus and olives.

Indian Corn—Cool nights throughout the Delta of the San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers where the principal part of the corn crop is grown, resulted in a decline of 5 points since August 1 in the condition as compared with a normal. The year the condition on September 1 was 85.

Barley—A decline of 1 point in the condition of barley at time of harvest is noted as compared with July 1 and August 1. Production is forecasted at about 30,200,000 bushels.

Rice—Comparatively cool weather during August held back the rice crop and the condition declined 1 point as compared with a normal. No earlier than a 20 bushel yield is now in sight. The estimated acreage planted is all harvested, and the present condition is maintained until harvest, the production will approximate 3,000,000 bushels.

Potatoes—The condition of potatoes in California is 82 per cent of a normal as compared with 83 on September 1, a year, and a 10-year average of 86. The indicated production is 13,125,000 bushels, while last year's crop was about 13,015,000 bushels.

Sweet Potatoes—The condition on September 1 was 89 per cent of a normal as compared with 89 on same date last year and a 10-year average of 91. The indicated crop will be about 1,000,000 bushels as against an estimated production last year of 1,050,000 bushels.

Grain Sorghum—The condition of grain sorghum is estimated to be 91 per cent of a normal as compared with 92 on September 1, a year, and a 10-year average of 87. On the estimated acreage planted, a condition of 91 indicates total production of about 120,000,000 bushels.

Linseed—During the month of August the condition maintained the condition of 88 reported on August 1. Last year on September 1 the condition was 80 and the 10-year average condition is 84.

Hops—The condition of hops is estimated at 73 per cent of a normal as compared with 82 last year, a 10-year average of 84. Production is about 5,912,000 pounds as against 21,000,000 pounds last year.

Sugar Beets—The condition of sugar beets in California is 83 per cent of a normal as compared with 87 last year and a 10-year average of 89. The preliminary estimate of the acreage planted and to be harvested and a condition of 86 indicate a production of about 1,081,000 tons as compared with 1,037,000 tons in 1920.

Lima Beans—The condition of Lima beans declined 2 points during August, being now but 75 per cent of a normal. Los Angeles county reports a good condition of both large and small limas which materially helped the state figure. Ventura county, where conditions were unfavorable at planting time and have been ever since, shows still further decline. Harvesting has begun on some unirrigated lands with very poor yields.

Beans—Other Than Lima—The smaller varieties of beans maintained the condition of August 1. Black-eyed beans seem to lead in condition and production and record crop is forecasted. Small whites in the Santa Maria-Lompoc district are poor, only about half a crop and a great reduced acreage which means a very small production as compared with former years. In the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, conditions are better but more or less spotted.

Rod Mexican and Lima will more than likely show a substantial increase in production and large whites a decided decrease.

The indicated production of all beans for California is about 2,500,000 bushels and for the United States about 8,000,000 bushels.

Apples—Harvesting of the early apple crop soon revealed an underestimate and that there would be more apples than expected.

The condition this month is placed at 85 per cent of a normal as compared with 86 last month. The 10-year average of 88.

Bonanza will have close to a 100 per cent crop of late apples.

Watsonville, is not too far from average; and the San Joaquin district more apples than ever before, even though Oak Glen was wiped out by April frost.

Apricots—The preliminary estimate on the total production of apricots is 66 per cent of a normal as compared with 65 last year and a 10-year average of 76. Apricots turned out better than expected and the final check on the tonnage dried and canned will run pretty close to last year's estimated production of 115,000 tons.

Figs—The condition of the fig crop is estimated to be 82 per cent of a normal, a decline of 1 points since August 1. Last year on September 1 the condition was 86 and the 10-year average was 84.

Peaches—The condition of peaches remains the same as on July 1 and August 1, viz., 12 per cent of a normal. Last year on September 1 the condition was 66 and the 10-year average was 64. Forecast of production remains the same, approximately 1,000,000 tons.

Pears—The condition of pears is estimated at 80 per cent of a normal as compared with 78 last year and a 10-year average of 83. Shipments outside the state, notwithstanding the short crop, are only 10 per cent less than last year's same date. There are more pears than expected and the total crop is likely to reach 75,000 tons.

Prunes—The condition of prunes is estimated at 73 per cent of a normal as compared with 74 last year and a 10-year average of 80.

On this basis a forecast of production would be for a crop of about 90,000 tons.

PASTURE. Pasture conditions dropped slightly throughout the state. The pastures, although in some counties show improvement. The condition on September 1 was 81 per cent of a normal as compared with 73 last year and a 10-year average of 83. Column 1 made with a normal as of September 1 and not the normal condition during the preceding months or any other season of the year.

The composite condition of all crops in California on September 1 at time of harvest was 85.5 per cent but the 10-year average condition on that date, compared to 85 per cent, was 84.5 per cent.

The condition of the orange crop on September 1, expressed in percentage of their 10-year average (but the normal) on September 1, was as follows:

Oranges 82.1

Average of all September 1, 1921, 94.5

PINE FLAT IS ENDANGERED BY POWER FILINGS

Senator Harris Tells Realty Men Trouble Is Ahead
Points Out Importance Of Industries In Valley

Development of its filings on the Kings river by the city of Los Angeles would destroy the Pine Flat project, and would leave the San Joaquin valley with no water supply for future irrigation development, said Senator M. B. Harris, speaking yesterday before the weekly meeting of the Fresno Realty board. In the San Joaquin valley, said the speaker, there are now over 130,000 acres of land now under irrigation, and only in very wet years can this great farming area be properly provided with water. If Los Angeles carries through its "grab" there will be no water for future farm acreage, and the greater acreage, developed lands of the San Joaquin valley now awaiting the magic touch of water will remain arid for all time.

The situation, Senator Harris pointed out, has resolved itself into a question of whether Los Angeles shall build its industries or shall the San Joaquin develop its farms.

During his address before the realtors, Senator Harris quoted figures comparing the San Joaquin valley with the north and south. This valley, he pointed out, has an area of 600,000 square miles, with a population of 424,000 persons. The Sacramento valley has an area of 11,000 square miles, and a population of 300,000. Southern California has an area of 40,000 square miles and a population of 1,200,000 persons.

Should Increase Industries. Senator Harris pointed out the importance of increasing our own industries in making it possible for the Southern California Edison company to sell power in the San Joaquin valley rather than its entire product to Los Angeles. The Edison company has harnessed the greatest water power source in the state, and is developing 1,000,000 horsepower from that source, while the annual power of the river filings belongs to the San Joaquin Light & Power Co.

"The question is, will it be farms here or factories in Los Angeles," said the speaker.

Referring to the stand taken by Los Angeles officials at the recent conference in Fresno, Senator Harris assured the San Joaquin valley that the southern city would not press its filings on the Kings river if this valley is ready to develop the power.

Senator Harris told the realtors that the speakers at that time are not absolute in Los Angeles. While they might have been perfectly sincere, there is no guarantee in the people of the San Joaquin valley that Los Angeles will retreat so easily when it comes to the Kings river.

The city of Los Angeles, he said, holds an indefensible position in attempting to grab the power supply of the San Joaquin valley at a time when Los Angeles has a surplus of power.

Senator Harris' talk was followed by a round of spirited applause from the club members, and the chairman of the organization expressed the thanks of the realty board to Senator Harris for his address.

NO MARRIAGE LICENSES. There were no marriage licenses issued yesterday from the county clerk's office. This is the first day with the exception of Sundays and holidays, in more than one year, that no licenses were issued. County Clerk D. M. DeBartolo stated last night that he knew of no explanation why none were issued.

FINES WHISKY RUNNERS $900

Judge Holds Operator At $500 Bail

William Bowman, charged with selling and transporting liquor, was fined $300 on each charge; Emeryville, drew a $300 fine when arraigned on a selling liquor charge, and $500 was the bail bond set for L. Scott, police operative who pleaded not guilty to liquor charges when the two were arrested by Police Officer Herbert E. Briggs yesterday morning.

The men, said to be members of a San Francisco whiskey ring, were arrested by L. A. Wickstrom and Inspector Guy Shoop O'Brien, Custodian Tuesday night in an alley between L. and M. streets just off Monterey street.

During their arraignment, the San Francisco men admitted they procured their liquor. They stated the whiskey had been stolen much more recently from a San Francisco warehouse. Through connections with several nurseries in a San Francisco nursery, they procured prescriptions for one gallon of alcohol. The one gallon order was changed to ten, and in the ratio of two gallons of alcohol to one gallon of whisky, the掺水 was mixed. As this caused the price to be $1.76 per proof, the concoction was diluted with water until it was 40 proof.

Chief of Police Truxx last evening stated the men "blackened" this illicit whisky in the kind of denier being sold around San Francisco—roundabout at 75 cents a drink.

Scott, the police operative who was appointed to the investigation, stated his arrest was taken an X-ray of his injuries, and he was placed under the care of Dr. H. J. Alter. Hargan was taken to the emergency hospital, and after an examination had been made by Dr. F. K. Pomeroy, was removed to the sanitarium.

The injured, C. E. DeBartolo, California Associated Telephone Company employee, fractured skull, severe head lacerations, external chest injuries.

C. B. Hamby, 3612 Illinois street, concussion of the brain, possible fracture of the nose, broken upper and lower teeth, head lacerations.

The men, when W. A. DeCicco was riding, who was motoring south in L. street, collided with an automobile coming west on Stanislaus street. Hamby was riding with U. C. O'Brien, who was driving the car struck by Hamby. Another automobile driver was injured. Both were taken to the emergency hospital, and after an examination had been made by Dr. F. K. Pomeroy, was removed to the sanitarium.

The force of the collision demolished both automobiles, the collision being splintered and twisted into many sharp pieces from the windshields, scattered some distance around the wrecked cars.

The wreck was investigated by Traffic Officer S. A. Meek of the police department.

EXPLORATION. RAKING, Sept. 14.—County Sheriff Griffith and Carlisle have been appointed by Mayor Houghson to work in conjunction with City Attorney Maher and City Engineer Hubbard in executing the opening of Union avenue across the Southern Pacific tracks, so as to get the improvement of Broadway street from Baker street to Union avenue under way. Griffith and Carlisle have been appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the laying of this street because of the difficulty encountered in the crossing. The railroad company wants the city not only to pay for the improvement, but to cancel its assessment for the work. The company will confer with the company, and with the railroad commission in order to facilitate matters.

The public is invited to attend.

Tulare County To Lose $600 In Alien
Fund By New Bill

Special to The Republican
VISALIA, Sept. 14.—Tulare county will lose approximately $600 from its school funds as the result of the decision of the state supreme court holding the alien-poll tax law to be unconstitutional. According to estimates made today by the superintendent of schools to whose department the money from the poll tax was to have been paid had the law been declared valid.

Although no one of the 200 odd aliens who have thus far paid their $10 tax under the law have appeared to sue, the refund of $600 must be paid back to them under higher courts decision and as much of the school fund was to receive the school budget, pay back together with all costs for its collection. About $350 will have to be paid out from these school funds for the registration at ten per cent per name, much of which has already been paid and already close to $200 has been paid for the collection of the $600 which Senator Blair has gathered.

MODESTO PLANS NEW BUILDING

C. of C. and Auto Assn. To Share Structure

Special to The Republican
MODESTO, Sept. 14.—Construction of a joint building to house the Modesto Chamber of Commerce and the District offices of the California State Automobile Association here will be started in the very near future according to information received yesterday from San Francisco to the effect that the land department of the Southern Pacific Railway had approved the issuance of a lease to the chamber of commerce on a space of railroad reservation at Ninth and Eyo streets, 75x100 feet. The ground to be leased will have a frontage of 100 feet on Ninth and 75 feet on Eyo street.

The new building, which will conform in architecture to the Southern Pacific station, will set back from the street some distance, with driveways entering from both streets passing the main entrance.

Plans for the new building have been submitted by various local architects and builders and it is expected that selection of the most feasible plan will be made at a meeting to be held the latter part of this week. E. L. Sherman, president of the chamber of commerce, and Frank A. Cressey, Jr., director of the California State Auto Association, have been named a committee to have charge of conducting the work on the new building which will cost not to exceed $20,000. The choice of plans already submitted will be made within a few days.

When completed, the new structure will add greatly to the beauty of the railroad reservation and give Modesto the first building of its kind in California to be used by a chamber of commerce and auto association offices and touring bureaus.

Oberleers struck the hard cement floor of the plant with a terrific impact, sustaining a fractured skull and other major injuries. He was unconscious when picked up by his 31-year-old son, who had witnessed the fall.

When these men arrived to render assistance, Oberleers was barely breathing and was covered with blood from his injuries.

He was engaged with other workers in painting the building when, on account of its great height, he became fatigued to the point of high fatigue, and it was believed he fainted in fainting. Conductor Hahn conducted him home yesterday afternoon.

THOMPSON CROP BREAKS RECORD

Yield Gains 50 Per Cent Near Kerman

Special to The Republican KERMAN, Sept. 14.—Judging from all indications, the Thompson Seedling Farm, one of the Kern-Blair-Vincent District will exceed that of other years by more than fifty percent. The increase is due to increased yields per acre as well as a large new acreage, which has come into bearing.

C. B. Wootton, hardware man of Kerman, was unable to supply the demand for paper trays and was forced to turn customer away during the past week, who were clamoring for trays. Mr. Wootton handled this year three times as many trays as were sold by him in 1920. Aside from that many trays have not in permanent wooden trays and reports from the Fresno factory states that the demand for wooden trays from Bakersfield and Visalia districts this year exceed that of any previous year.

Large shipments of table grapes were sent to the East last month from Bakersfield and Kerman to the East and middle West, but of late these shipments were not so numerous on account of the drop in prices on Eastern markets. Growers are making preparations, however, to take advantage of the fall markets for emperors, a large quantity of which will be shipped during the coming months from this district.

The late ripening fruit which damaged the crop in 1920 did not harm the crop already west of Fresno at all.

In consequence of the increased demand and new acreage on hand, the Bakersfield Association is preparing to receive raisins at Kerman as well as at the Bakersfield market.

Next year the Bakersfield Association expects to build a packing house at Kerman in order to relieve the crowded condition at Bakersfield. The Bakersfield packing house will handle the largest crop in its history this fall despite the fact that a part of the crop will be received at and shipped from Kerman.

Armona Building Is Being Completed

ARMONA, Sept. 14.—Work around the Armona school building is being pushed to the utmost. The brick-work and lumber being completed, the floors are being laid and wood work of the interior finished. Eight rooms will be occupied by the children and two devoted to domestic science and manual training. The building looks pretty, not startlingly new.

H. Pulliam is straightening up the grounds generally and trimming off superfluous branches—so that a better view will be obtained from the highway. Soon a comfortable and comfortable building will be at the service of the great crowd of children of all nations who annually assemble at the Armona grammar school.

OIL WORKERS STOP TRAIN

working in the fields and water plants, they said. It was announced at union headquarters that the Kern River Los Angeles oil fields, oil fields, and shut down, "tight." All the exception of leases of companies not included in the strike action. Baker today is conferring with the district attorney's office in regard to shutting off of water and gas on oil company leases, several instances of which action have been reported to the union officials. Shut-offs have been made at Maricopa. It was said. An opinion regarding the legal phases of the state housing law of this reported situation, is desired by the district attorney, Baker said.

In the matter of vacating lease residences, Baker said that the union tenancies are protected by the "supreme court." Decision handed down in a case instituted by Paul Schaefferburg, secretary of the California State Federation of Labor, which set forth the tenancies of such leases as being irreconcilable with those in the oil fields of Kern country, must be given 30 days notice to vacate, allowed 36 days more to complete moving, and 10 days more in cases of strikes.

Baker said that on many leases the men had signed agreements to leave the property three days following a strike. He declared these agreements were probably because they were signed "under duress."

Parade to Be Held.—Striking oil workers and their families will march in big parade here Friday evening, and will assemble at the city hall to hear addresses by union leaders. It was announced. The workers are to assemble in the Labor Temple at 8 p.m., marching their marchers will be formed, "and into the march" through the business district to the city hall. It is expected that 500 people will participate in the parade.

At the city hall Walter Thompson Mills of Berkeley who spoke the workers at Taft last night and Walter J. Yarrow, legal adviser for the California Oil Workers' union, will address the marchers. The workers will march back to the Labor Temple and disband. Mills will speak on "Victories and Defeats of Oil Workers Co-operators."

Baker received telegrams from Southern California locals of the oil workers' union stating that the men there are true in their support of the valley strikers and that workers under striking that the men there are true in their support of the valley strikers. The southern workers are donating at least one day's pay a week to the strike benefit fund. Many of them are splitting their wages "fifty-fifty" with the fund, Baker was advised.

Stop Firearms Sold.—Sheriff D. B. Newell today sent the following letter to proprietors of all hardware and sporting goods stores in Kern County:

Dear Sirs:—Do not sell or dispose of any fire-arms or ammunition of any description to anyone until further orders from me.

Signed, D. B. NEWELL, Sheriff.

Sheriff Newell announced that his office had been authorized to employ a few local men as watchmen on leases in the oil fields. The Taft and Maricopa locals of the oil workers' union have named that local men of which rests with city officials.

should be employed to guard property on the leases, Newell said.

Quiet at Taft

Taft, Sept. 14.—The strike situation had apparently returned to normal tonight, following the sensational ride by more than 1,000 oil workers at 5 o'clock this morning to Mendota Junction, fourteen miles from this city, where 250 men aboard a special train were turned back.

With there was nothing further in the strike situation tonight, guards from the law and order committee of the oil workers were stationed at every road leading into the fields. All autoists were stopped by the guards with a view of keeping possible strike breakers from the oil district. Practically the entire West Side is shut down at this time with the exception of the standard leases.

Form Peace Body

A law and order committee composed of ex-service men and others who are members of Legion No. 2 of oil workers has been organized in the Coalinga strike area, according to a telegram received yesterday by District Attorney H. W. Gearhart from F. C. Cornell, leader of the committee. The committee was formed for the purpose of preventing the sale and distribution of intoxicating liquor in the area and asked for suggestions.

In reply to the telegram, District Attorney Gearhart highly commended the committee for their effort to assist the local authorities and stated that he will assist in any way possible.

The telegram from the committee was as follows:

Ex-service men and others who are members of Legion No. 2 of oil workers, how on strike, have organized a law and order committee which we intend shall function to prevent any breach of the peace in this district or any trespass upon our destruction of property, any sale of liquor from your office will be received in the spirit of hearty cooperation.

We may suggest that special efforts be made by the proper authorities to do this to prevent the sale of any intoxicating liquor at any point in the strike area.

As battalion commander of the law and order committee, I hereby assure you that we will take all possible steps at this point to prevent sale or distribution of intoxicants.

P. C. CORNELL,
Battalion Commander

Garrison Reply

In reply, District Attorney Gearhart wired us follows:

To F. C. Cornell,
Battalion Commander Law and Order Committee, Coalinga, Cal.

Cannot too highly commend your efforts to assist local authorities in its maintaining law and order throughout the strike area. Have every confidence in the sound judgment and good sense of the members of your organization and believe them to do not anticipate any disorder or lawlessness whatsoever. Official action by this office not rendered necessary.

The few individuals who might lend themselves to violence will be restrained by the very knowledge of the existence of your committee and of the realization of the most certain results of their would attack and certain decline in their part. Would appreciate it if you would keep my advised as to situation.

In regard to prevention of other sale of intoxicants advise that only law under which can proceed is the so-called Wyllie Local Option Act which prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor in quantities of less than two gallons in territory which is not within the Home Rule districts, declared by city ordinance the enforcement of which rests with city officials.

While I am without authority except as hereinafter set out, I would certainly consider it with local authorities in their efforts to stamp out this disturbance, and to the end of this, I believe, I can be of assistance.

H. W. GEARHART,
District Attorney

Barba Fights Smith In Main Event

As an added feature of the Tulare Live Stock and Agriculture Show at Tulare this week a fast boxing card has been lined up for tonight's entertainment by Leonard Pratt of Tulare.

The main event will be "Wild Cat" Herb Hobart of Newmark, Calif., and lightweight Henry Smith of Tulare. Hobart has made a rapid rise in valley fighting circles and is now fighting main events in the childhood shows. Smith hails from Oakland with a long record of wins to his credit.

Bob Morlow of Bakersfield and Charles Price of Newman will furnish the semi-windup. Both are hard hitting lightweights and pack a hard wallop. They are evenly matched and have fought in several throughout valley towns recently.

Joe Mackrill, a favorite among Fresno fighters will knock up against Ted Levin for the second time within two days. Mackrill beat Levin here Tuesday night on the Legion card in a very exciting fight. Mackrill knocked Levin clear of the ropes in the fourth round. They all fought to draw on the Legion card here sometime ago.

Clarence Sanchez of Hanford and Eddie Steele of Fresno will put on the special event. Both are clever and furnish a fine exhibition of boxing. The preliminaries of the bill will be made up of Miss Johnson of Fresno and Henry Gamble of Fresno. These boys will furnish the curtain raiser on the Legion card here recently and their last card to be put on the bill will be Terry McLean, as that card will be Terry McLean vs. Eddie Young, Aransas.

Ralph Copie of Tulare will act as referee and E. L. Howell of Fresno will be the announcer.

ROTHVILLE, Sept. 14.—The outlook for a team to uphold the traditions of the International Union high school in football are equal to any in former years as about fifty schools are candidates for a place on the team this season. While a number of the stars of last year are not in school this year equally promising material is expected to fill their places.

One Garret will be the manager of this year's squad and Carl Frame has been chosen captain of the team.

Coach D. R. Lightner has announced that real practice will begin at once and that every effort will be extended to developing a team of champions.

"Circumstances"?
I Make My Own Circumstances!

Famous words of a famous military leader. And Napoleon was right to some extent.

But it does not necessarily take a Napoleon of finance to make his own circumstances. The man who has learned the value of saving and who has ready money on deposit is the one who can make his own circumstances in the financial world, or take advantage of those that come his way.

Make the beginning today if you have not already done so. If you are already saving—try to save a little more. This firmly-established institution will do all in its power to aid and serve you.
